CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — APPENDIX

April 11, 1967

the results of this survey, are just the opposite of Romney's strengths. Among Republicans Nixon runs from 5% to 9% behind Romney's Republican vote when Nixon is matched against Mr. Johnson and Kennedy. With the Democrats, Nixon runs 13% behind Romney's Democratic vote in both the Johnson and the Kennedy situations.

Neither Kennedy nor Romney are assured of victory in their own party in California at this time.

Among the Democratic voters, Kennedy's edge over Mr. Johnson is relatively slim when the large percentage of "don't know" voters are considered. As the table below indicates, some 19% of the Democrats have not yet made up their minds:

If the contest for the Democratic nomination for President of the United States were between these two men, for which one would you vote?

	Total percent
Robert F. Kennedy.....	43
Lyndon B. Johnson.....	38
Don't know.....	19

Among Republican voters, Romney's 3% lead over Nixon is even more uncertain because of the support pulled away from the two major candidates by California's Gov. Reagan and Sen. Charles Percy (R-Ill.)

Here's how the Republican preferences break down:

If the contest for the Republican nomination for President of the United States were between these men, for which one would you vote?

	Total percent
George Romney.....	35
Richard Nixon.....	32
Charles Percy.....	10
Ronald Reagan.....	9
Don't know.....	14

In one of the ironies typical of the political career of the former Vice President, California Republicans regard Nixon as their "kind of candidate," but his support takes a nose-dive when the issue of electibility is raised.

This came out in close questioning of Republicans as reported below:

Which one of the following would you classify as your kind of candidate?

	Total percent
Richard Nixon.....	31
George Romney.....	27
Ronald Reagan.....	19
Charles Percy.....	11
Don't know.....	12

Which one of these men do you think can win next year?

	Total percent
George Romney.....	46
Richard Nixon.....	16
Ronald Reagan.....	11
Charles Percy.....	8
Don't know.....	19

Although the current series of stories based on this same State Poll report that Gov. Reagan has substantial support among the voters as to his job performance to date, most Republicans apparently do not consider him Presidential timber when compared with the leading candidates Romney and Nixon.

Only in the question relating to their own kind of candidate does Reagan make a significant inroad among the voters. It is highly possible that the "wait and see" attitude among voters about him, reported last Sunday by The State Poll, may have considerable impact on his Presidential potential.

Sen. Percy, considered by many as the leading dark horse candidate for the Republican Presidential election, does well for an individual without an image in California.

His greatest weakness, according to the survey, is the question of whether or not he could defeat the Democratic candidate.

The uncertain Kennedy lead over Mr. Johnson and the neck-and-neck nature of the Romney-Nixon struggle bids fair to heat up the coming political months in California.

Congressman Horton Praises Career of Wayne County's Dr. Walter S. Thomas

EXTENSION OF REMARKS OF #### HON. FRANK HORTON

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, April 11, 1967

Mr. HORTON. Mr. Speaker, on Sunday, April 16, about 200 members of my constituency in Wayne County, N.Y., will gather to honor a man who has given much of his life to his fellow man. He is Dr. Walter S. Thomas, chief and director of the department of laboratories and pathology at the Newark-Wayne Community Hospital in Newark, N.Y.

He is a man about whom Robert Louis Stevenson wrote in the last century—the physician—"He is the flower of our civilization."

For more than 60 years, Dr. Thomas has served his fellow man as physician, pathologist, and bacteriologist. His work has earned for him the gratitude and affection of thousands of people.

In the true sense of the word, he is a professional.

Since he graduated from the University of Texas in 1906, he has pursued his science with a diligence typical of the men of medicine. He served as a fellow and instructor in pathology at Johns Hopkins University from 1908 to 1910, and as an instructor and associate pathologist at Washington University School of Medicine at St. Louis, Mo.

In 1917, he heeded his country's call to war, serving with the rank of major in the U.S. Army as chief laboratory officer in Bordeaux, France.

Returning from Europe, he went to Clifton Springs, N.Y., and became chief of the department of pathology at the Clifton Springs Sanitarium, serving in that capacity through 1938.

From 1938 to 1956, he was Monroe County pathologist, director of Rochester's blood bank and served as a consulting pathologist to several hospitals in the area.

Since 1957, he has served in his present post at the Newark-Wayne Community Hospital. His work is known well in western New York, and his fellow medical society members will gather on the 16th to pay him lasting tribute.

He has been recognized for his skill many times before. In 1943-44, he served as the first president of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists.

He is a fellow of the American College of Physicians; a member of the American Association of Pathologists and Bacteriologists; a fellow of the College of American Pathologists; a member of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists and a member of the Society for Experimental Biology in Medicine.

He has held the presidencies of nearly every State organization in his field. Friends from all corners of the Nation will be present Sunday when the Wayne County Medical Society, led by its able president, Dr. Joseph J. Kaufman, will honor Dr. Thomas.

Dr. Thomas is a past president of the Ontario County Medical Society and a recipient of the Medal Award Fellowship of the Rochester Academy of Medicine.

And certainly his sparkling career has been enhanced and broadened by his devoted wife and helpmate, Mrs. Betty Carter Thomas.

His work has been his life. His zeal and zest for his work have never flagged. I am proud to be able to join with my constituents in Wayne County in honoring this distinguished physician and citizen, Dr. Walter S. Thomas.

Thoughtful Treatment of CIA Activities

EXTENSION OF REMARKS

OF

HON. F. EDWARD HÉBERT

OF LOUISIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, April 11, 1967

Mr. HÉBERT. Mr. Speaker, the report of the Committee headed by Mr. Katzenbach and appointed by the President to review relationships between private American voluntary organizations and the Central Intelligence Agency, in recommending discontinuance of covert financial support to any of the Nation's educational or private voluntary organizations, also noted that they are satisfied that the CIO will not be unduly handicapped in the exercise of national security responsibilities by this limitation of activities.

As a member of the Central Intelligence Subcommittee of the Armed Services Committee, I would like to call the attention of my colleagues to an editorial of March 31, 1967, in the Washington Evening Star, which gives thoughtful treatment to this question. The editorial follows for your consideration:

REFORMING THE CIA

There is one hopeful note in the report of a high-level study committee which the President appointed in February after the uproar over the disclosure that CIA money had been covertly used to finance some activities of the National Student Association and other groups. This note is that the committee members do not believe the policies which they recommend will "unduly handicap" the CIA "in the exercise of its national security responsibilities."

The implication is, of course, that there will be some handicap. And the observation would be thoroughly suspect if it were not for the fact that Richard Helms, CIA Director, was one of the committee members. (The others were Nicholas Katzenbach, Under Secretary of State, and John W. Gardner, HEW Secretary.) If Helms subscribes to the assertion that his own agency will not be unduly handicapped, that is an assurance which will have to be taken at face value.

We have never thought there was any-
